Have You Heard?

Have you heard about our latest project at Stitch'N Time? We've started doing Butterfly Blankies. It's a very small butterfly shaped blanket, 10"-12", that's used in the NICU unit at Women's Hospital. The blankets are laid against the mother's chest when she holds her baby. The mother's "smell" is transferred to the blanket. When the baby is returned to the incubator, the blankie goes with the baby. The mother's "smell" comforts the baby! Isn't that wonderful?

If you want to be part of this newest addition to the Stitch'N Time ministry, please join us on the 2nd and 4th Thursday of the month. Don't worry if you can't sew! We need people to cut the blankies out, and after they're sewed, we need people to clip the edges. If you can use a pair of scissors, we need you! I hope to start making up kits for those that would like to sew at home and return to us for the clipping. If you can't do any of that but would like to be a part of it, monetary donations are always appreciated---and accepted! Contact me if you want to know more. Linda Rapp 336-282-4563
